St. John xiv: 15

Jesus said unto his disciples, if you love me keep my commandments. And I will pray to the Father, and he shall give you another comforter, that He may abide with you forever; even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it sees him not, neither knows him; but you know him; for he dwells within you, and shall be in you.

Each day your actions, from dawn to dusk depend upon having energy. Initially, you need energy to propel yourselves (or crawl) out of bed, stagger wearily to the bathroom, look at your face in the mirror and then amble downstairs towards a bowl of cereal or, perhaps, someone has cooked you a hearty breakfast. After that the whole day is one chaotic jumble of movement, which, hopefully, results in performing the right actions at the right time.

Although you require physical energy to move around, you are also totally dependent on other forms of energy to help you complete both simple and complex tasks throughout the day. Simple functions such as heating, water, light, and communication, each require a source of energy to work. This energy is not a secret hidden power. You know of its existence, you understand basically how it is made and how it works and you know the effort it has on your daily lives. This energy is often taken for granted and expected to be there when needed, but when that energy source is not available, even for a short period of time, people feel isolated, frustrated and deprived.

At this time of year, we celebrate the 'Feast of Pentecost' – also called the 'Feast of Weeks' and the 'Feast of the First-Fruits'. It was a time when all male Israelites would make a peace offering to God asking for forgiveness and would remember God's help in getting them out of Egypt. This was also the day that the Law was given to the Israelites on Mount Sinai, exactly fifty days after the Passover ('Pente' meaning fifty in Greek. This day is more usually called Shavuot). Jerusalem would have been crowded with people from 'every nation under heaven', all making their way to the temple. Consequently, on this day many languages would have been spoken.

Somewhere in a room in Jerusalem the followers of Jesus gathered, not sure what the future held for them. What did they see? What did they feel? How often did the twilight hold them! How often did they question: Where is my Mother? What of the future? Is this the next step or have I blundered? How many enemies are around? If I do this will my mission suffer? Jesus had told them to 'Go to the people of all nations and make them my disciples, baptize them in the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit' (Matt. 28:19), but they had no idea how to fulfil his command.

One moment confusion and the next certainty, one moment doubt and the next faith, one moment despair and the knowing, one moment fear and the next confidence. All this describes what happened on the day of Pentecost recorded in Acts, chapter 2. God's church on earth was born and the curse of Babel (Genesis Chapter 2 'The Tower of Babel' where three thousand people were put to death.) was taken away. For on the day of Pentecost three thousand people were saved. The power of Holy Spirit transformed their lives and sent them on a crusade for Christ.

The path they took was strewn with an anguish hidden from you now. Yet, they went on, not on their own strength for only weakness seemed within, but on the strength of God. They went on and if it led them to so-called death, that crusader, that one who fought, passed into life hitherto undreamt of by the one concerned.

Peter and Paul, John and James, and all those who followed after, the road held much for them, which is not for you, but they understand the road that is your own, and because of their pangs, because of their misgivings, because of their doubts, because God seemed so far away, they come back and they say: "Faith! All is well, all is well".

At times of war there are always those who fight against tremendous odds; there are always those who stand back and let others take the brunt and the fiercest dander; there are always those who, when fear grips them, pray that courage may come. There are always the fighters, always the idlers; always the true ones, always the false ones; but the battle is to the brave, the battle is to the one who is strong in the strength of God; the battle is turned by those few who put self-last and God first.

In this mighty spiritual warfare, which is going on and which even now is quickening in intensity, so again it will be the few, the few who are not afraid to suffer a little for the sake of the furtherance of God's plan.

At the present moment all seems clear to you, but when you go out into the busy world and the trials and irritation of daily life draw close, then the test comes from Truth: One day, one time it Must be worthwhile, for only you can gain for yourselves the spiritual freedom which is your Divine inheritance.

So, look within and question yourselves: "Is my life easy? Yes, but there are many whose lot is hard; I will share my ease, my peace and my unity with

In this mighty spiritual warfare, which is going on and which even now is quickening in intensity, so again it will be the few, the few who are not afraid to suffer a little for the sake of the furtherance of God's plan.

There are some of you who would answer: “No, My life is difficult, ease is far from me. How can I give when I have scarce enough for myself?” Christ replies: By shouldering your burden you are giving to others in a way you cannot grasp!

God!”. Remember: Reward, recompense, is a spiritual law. That which you do unto another is returned unto you twofold, threefold, tenfold – this according to the purity of your motive.

There are some of you who would answer: “No, My life is difficult, ease is far from me. How can I give when I have scarce enough for myself?” Christ replies: By shouldering your burden you are giving to others in a way you cannot grasp! For, the brave warrior spirit is exemplified by the patient mother, the tired worker or the pain-driven child. These things borne with as much patience as possible, create power, the power to give to others, to those who have not the courage, who know nothing of endurance.

By taking the hard road, turning not from the hard road, you are doing God’s work, and as you climb, the power generated is used by another who, without it, would make no attempt to leave the valley for the steep hillside.

Do not think that to be a crusader you must necessarily go out into the open, mixing among those who are of the world and force them to listen to your words. This is the portion of some and must be carried on, but every child of God can have the valiant heart, The warrior-spirit, and example it in daily life. As you rise and as you fall asleep you can be certain that the day has produced that which God intended, if you Tried, if you sought to hold love in your mind while others struck, if you forbade the longing for physical comfort and indulgent ease. In such simple ways so you can demonstrate the crusader-spirit, and your part of the warfare has been won.

How simple is the teaching of Christ, but how profound! The so-called 'wise' ones ask for theory and doctrine; they exclaim that their minds must have something to feed upon, something difficult, something not easily unravelled. If they are wise, let them prove their wisdom by taking the teaching of Christ and seeking to follow it – not only in thought but in action!

They will find that their greatest resources are called upon, they will find that because they have made a stand for Christ, because they intend to demonstrate the Divine within, that those who are out to wreck will fall upon them, those who forsook the path in the yesterday will provide trap and pitfall, and all their determination must be drawn upon to still stand firm and follow the simple teaching of the Christ. As they strive, even if they fail, so God's love is demonstrated to mankind; and if they fail in one span they will succeed in another, and the bondage of the physical stage shall appear as a chain of gold, unbreakable, held by the Christ; and upon that chain others shall rest, others shall hang, until the strength is forthcoming so that they may follow on.

Humanity linked together for the great crusade! If there are those who are weak, then you who know must be doubly strong, and when there are others hard beset, there you gather. Their battle is your battle, their burden your burden, their joy your joy, their victory your victory, for all of you are as one – you are the Children of the Most High, and God has blessed the link of love and life that holds you, the friends of The Greater World together.

You can be as the greatest, bravest, strongest crusaders the world has ever known. You can represent that great ideal to others, for within you is God – strength, illimitable wisdom as yet hardly drawn upon by yourselves or others – God Within, and because of that glorious fact, the night-time of the earth stage represents the day-time of the soul.

You can be as the greatest, bravest, strongest crusaders the world has ever known. You can represent that great ideal to others, for within you is God – strength, illimitable wisdom as yet hardly drawn upon by yourselves or others – God Within, and because of that glorious fact, the night-time of the earth stage represents the day-time of the soul. The sleep which holds you in great or little part shall lessen as the days go on, and when the Christ touches you, you will awaken to revelation and the power that it brings.

This is the future – a message indeed of the Spring. Resurrection out of one stage into another, out of bondage into freedom, out of freedom into that sweet liberty which allows you to go not only amongst those in your own conditions, but allows you to go where you will, to act as a saviour, to be as a redeemer, to arouse others as to the great crusade, to mark them with the Cross! They, recognising what lies in front, holding on to faith, they shall do their sweet part, and God's will on earth and in other conditions shall be done.

Though these words are solemn, they are not only tinged with joy, but they represent joy itself. They represent compensation, they represent opportunity, they represent the return to your divine inheritance, to your home which peace, to your conditions which are lovely; and once within the Father's home – because the ray of the Father is upon you – so the yearning shall be irresistible and you shall not rest until you draw others out of the shadows into the light which never fades. Joy upon joy, God's love manifested on every side!

The rays of love are all around, and you will know full well that love is the strongest power in any world, in any condition – Love rules all, controls all. Therefore, your goal is love, and with love you are strong, with love you are brave, with love you can face the fiercest enemy of the Christ and love is yours this day.

May God bless you with the wish to join the mighty army of God. May he bless you with the illumination as to that which has been vouchsafe and once again underline that only through the love of God and through the power of the Holy Spirit can one word of the Christ message be past onto those in need as the apostles did long ago.

Dear Lord and Father, today we recall the wonderful moment when the Holy Spirit, the Spirit of Love, came upon the apostles. They were filled with energy and fired by love. May that same spirit fill you with energy in God's service and love for one another. Amen.

† News from Headquarters

No changes to report hear as yet. A new racking system is on order for Health and safety.

It would be so worthwhile to hear from the Leaders of the Churches how they are managing during these difficult times. Tell the family what you intend to do over the coming year. There are so many ways in which this can be carried out. Photographs, which can be included in the News Letter, will also add to the joy of those who are unable to join in the deed.

We have a great responsibility placed upon our shoulders to inform all people that there is a better way of life. You may think that you do not know enough about 'The Way of Life' which The Greater World is seeking to spread throughout the world – and has been spreading throughout the world for over one hundred years. It is through such as you that the message can be spread – through your caring thoughts – through the cultivation of the active loving soul within. Nothing ever goes unnoticed by those in the Higher Life.

No matter who you are or what your position – you can be of use to your loving Heavenly Father – day and night. You can aid more people than you realise – a quick thought for kindness as you pass someone in trouble – a smile goes a long way. There are so many souls in need – whether they respond in a positive manner matters not – only you can know that a kind and loving thought has passed to someone and it is up to them how they receive it.

May all the joys and blessings of the Lord our God be yours.

Miracle Workers

When miracles are mentioned, many people think of Jesus and his disciples. They think of Peter and Paul and all those whose names go unrecorded. You know that nearly two thousand years ago miracles were wrought. You know that the so-called dead were brought to life. You know that those who were blind received their sight; that the lame could walk; that those mentally deficient or possessed by spirits bound in every sense, that these regained their sanity and praised God for that which had been done to them.

Miracle workers in times of old! Why? Because they were willing to suffer, willing to sacrifice, to put their interests last and the work of God first. Nevertheless, Jesus Christ had to train his instruments. The Master had to gather them round and teach them, as little children, in understanding who they were; unfold to them, in the same way as teaching the alphabet, something of the gifts and powers housed within.

You have these self-same powers, God-like qualities, because you were created by God in his image and within you is the perfection represented by Jesus Christ – suffocated, stifled maybe, but God within, caged, held, but one day it shall demonstrate itself and others shall marvel. Jesus taught his disciples; he taught them word by word, and what is more, by example showed them that a life lived for others could bring powers undreamt of by the physical mind. He showed them that by being in direct contact with God, they could defy physical laws, because they were drawing down to themselves the power to use the spiritual laws set into being by God.

These are some of the truths which one day those on the earth plane must face and make their own. Those of old were miracle workers because they listened, and in a humble way they sought to follow in the footsteps of Jesus Christ. It is marvelous to think that Christ as God, God as Christ, loves you best of all, in spite of your failures, in spite of your treachery, in spite of your selfishness – God loves you best of all!

These things are real and they bring upon you the presence of the Holy Spirit. Thus it was that humble men and women, many so-called uneducated, changed the history of the earth; for at that time the evil, as you name it was in command that had not Christ come to sweeten, to purify the conditions, then today, repulsive in a way you cannot grasp, far, far lower than the lowest animal, man would be crawling his way, a curse to himself and even to those who sought to redeem.

Humble men and women worked miracles by the grace of God, but even Jesus Christ himself could not have passed onto his disciples the power if they had been unwilling to suffer, if they had been reluctant to sacrifice. So, we come back to the bible, the book of wisdom, the first word of which is Sacrifice.

Whether you have psychic gifts, or whether you seem bound and blind to the greater world of spirit have no fear. Let not misgiving or dismay cloud the mind. You can be a miracle worker by the grace of God, for within you is God, and the Creator of life gave unto his creation gifts like unto his own, those gifts to be released when the holder was willing to take the steep hill which leads to freedom.

To those who have no psychic gifts, to those who have not the power which flows through their hands, to those who seem shut into a prison house of the physical: Rejoice! Because of your imprisonment now, hereafter your freedom shall be greater than the seer, the hearer; perhaps you shall rise to greater heights. For so often, to those with the gifts of hearing, of seeing, and of healing the tempters draw close, and the one who in miniature is demonstrating God, is tempted and falls. When the physical garment is no more, time must pass before the damage done can be rectified, before the pilgrim spirit is released and the Cross is taken up in very truth.

To those who have the gifts of the spirit and in those gifts acclaim God,

To those who have no psychic gifts, to those who have not the power which flows through their hands, to those who seem shut into a prison house of the physical: Rejoice! Because of your imprisonment now, hereafter your freedom shall be greater than the seer, the hearer; perhaps you shall rise to greater heights.

To the spiritual healers the blessing of the Christ rests upon you. In the measure that you have given of your treasure, so hereafter the treasure which the earth cannot hold shall be your own. You shall be ruler over many things because you were faithful over the little things!

who hold not to self, neither pride or credit, but render unto God the things which are God's, and gratefully, thankfully turn to the one who loves them best and give unto that one the honour that is due to Him. To the spiritual healers the blessing of the Christ rests upon you. In the measure that you have given of your treasure, so hereafter the treasure which the earth cannot hold shall be your own. You shall be ruler over many things because you were faithful over the little things! Blessed are the healers who give and give and ask naught in return. The 'return' they are receiving moment by moment is beyond the conception of the physical world. They are miracle workers. Those who are healed acclaim them so, but get away from the physical; the miracle that has been wrought is on the freed soul within!

When Peter healed, when Peter raised from the 'dead', those around would have worshipped him as a god, yet the miracles of miracles was hidden from their sight. When Peter passed into the light which cannot fade, before him were the miracles wrought, and the greatest miracle of all, wrought so unconsciously was the release of the Divine housed within the garment of his flesh!

The word miracle appeals to the mind of man. Those who take the gifts to others, while the gift remains, are happy, perhaps at times they are grateful. Yet so often when the earth condition is removed, they look back and they see no miracle in their own life because they failed in gratitude and in the service demanded from them. Yet, the miracle is there in very truth – the miracle was performed upon himself or herself because they gave for the glory of God.

This is reality! Keep an even mind, let your vision be clear. While some acclaim what man can do upon the earth plane – the mighty inventions and the great constructive designs – forget not that banner bears the word sacrifice, who claim the gift of sacrifice in the God-sense, the humble man and woman are the greatest miracle workers of all. Not only have they freed themselves, but they have cast out upon the vibrations spiritual power, healing power, which shall cleanse and heal the spirit and the soul-body of countless others who are powerless to help themselves.

Each one of you can be greater than any teacher, in this wise: You can be as Christ, perfect as Jesus was perfect. If you say “The journey in front is long, the gap between me and perfection is so deep, so wide, so broad.” Then God will answer: “By your attitude of mind, by your wish to arise, in time to come you shall see the signs of Christ

Not only have they freed themselves, but they have cast out upon the vibrations spiritual power, healing power, which shall cleanse and heal the spirit and the soul-body of countless others who are powerless to help themselves.

*So, give out your empathy, give out of your cheer, give out of your love and God will do the rest!
You know it is not, but all-around miracles are wrought second by Miracles of grace, miracles which

which make the raising of the dead

upon your heart and mind.” Those signs, those marks shall grow deeper, sweeter and lovelier still and in time to come – the great hereafter – you shall return to your Divine inheritance and in every truth you will be as God – in miniature, it is true, but perfect as Christ, perfect as the Father and Mother God. Indeed you must return to that high and holy state.

Miracle workers are all around the sick and the sorrowful; they are everywhere! Perhaps you cannot heal, or so you feel, but by the word of empathy, the word of cheer, the carrying of another’s burden, believe that if the physical garment is not made strong and if the vitality is not restored, then the spirit-body – which houses the Divine when the earth stage is passed – that is gaining nourishment, power and health which shall represent a miracle when sight is made your own.

So, give out your empathy, give out of your cheer, give out of your love and God will do the rest! You know it is not, but all-around miracles are wrought second by second, not only hour by hour. Miracles of grace, miracles which baffle earthly description, miracles which make the raising of the dead seem as nothing in comparison. Each of you has the power to raise the sleeping Christ within another, the Divine which is as dead! Each of you can bring back to life out of seeming death the spirit of God imprisoned within a fellow being.

Thus, we come to the truth. Thus, your sense of proportion is held, your sense of perspective is truer than before. Have no fear! Give out and if the one who takes forgets to thank, remember Jesus Christ and all those who forgot to render him the gratitude that was due. In this very lack you are linked to God.

Yet the sweet voice reminds you always: What of the lost sheep, what of the lost lambs, what of those who are close to danger, who are surrounded by enemies seen and unseen, Those true missionaries upon the earth plane - those with the sight, those with the half-sight answer: "Use me, I will go after them and lead them back into the safety of the fold."

Friends of The Greater World, this is your task as well as mine! It is the task of all to seek the lost and to seek until they are found. To give out of yourselves, from the Divine within, from that which is all holiness, all purity, whatever the physical life may represent - to give and not hold back.

Great things are coming to pass and you must be ready, you must be prepared. The army of God is gathering close to those upon the earth plane, and they must use you as they must use all who seek to serve and follow on.

So then, think not as these gifts as psychic. Remember that the gift of gifts has been made your own. Within you is God, and the power from the God within shall release the entombed God within many others.

Arise in heart and mind - miracle workers everyone! Thus is God demonstrated upon the earth plane, God justified through his servants, for the power of the Holy Spirit shall change the heart and mind of man,

May God bless you with true sight, bless you with the wisdom, and above all, bless you with the wish to serve. God takes the humble heart and obedient will of those who live faith and works miracles through their agency, now and forever. Praise be to God, hallowed be his name!

Dear Lord and Father, we thank you for all that you have given unto us, thy children. Teach us how to arise, Lead us up the steep and difficult path, bind the cross to our shoulders so that in the sweet hereafter we may indeed be one with thee.

Amen.

We offer our prayers in the name of Jesus, the Healer of all mankind

“O God, send down Thy Power – Thy Power, Thy Peace, Thy quieting influence – send down Thy Power so that Thy children, in faith, in hope, and in anticipation, may receive Thy Healing Power in abundance, each according to their need. Amen”

The Coming of Power

I have much to say and I draw your thoughts away from the earth, away from the material things of your life and I place them Where? Upon Christ, for you belong to him. I know there is much that seeks to hold you back from the highest and the best, but in spirit some have chosen the very best, and so I speak on that which I name the Coming of Power.

Now listen and learn. Over the earth today there is that creeping which cannot be expressed in the language of this world. Yet I come not to speak of sad things, to speak of broken things, but rather to tell you that within your power it lies to construct, to retrieve for Christ. Oh, what a prospect, what a privilege, what an honour!

Now, how can this be done? I am looking out over this little earth as a whole, I see in far countries amongst strange peoples something arising. What is it? Some may call it endurance, others resignation. Oh, many names you have on earth give that which is the release of the Divine within. In this little world there are those who know not Christ who are willing to endure; and there are many who are forced to endure because others with the power hold them, as it were, in their hands. Then there are the bonded children, those heedless ones who watch not for signs of the times and they refuse to suffer; yet even in their refusal so a measure of suffering falls upon them – God’s law of saving that which his little ones have cast aside.

I speak of this because it indicates in very truth just the stage of evolution which the planet earth has reached, but I want to focus your thoughts on this glorious fact: That not only in this city, with its weakness and its strife, with its suffering and its false pleasures, but over this world there are those, perchance unconsciously to themselves, who are struggling towards the light – the light of revelation, and they are the ones who are providing the power.

Think of that ‘power’ in the God sense. The only power that is true either in the earth sense or in the God sense is that force which can be used to save and safeguard others.

So I tell you that on you, individually, the responsibility lies. Indeed trouble must come upon the earth, indeed sorrow in many forms must teach and cleanse; but I say that through the power created by the individual – by those who are willing to suffer a little so that suffering in a hideous sense shall be fenced off from others – that

*So, I take you back to the daily round.
You can create the Divine gift of power by thought, but still more by action, for I would have you know that in the spirit action takes first place.*

through this and other things hidden from your consciousness, now, so the power will come, and that which you name weakness shall be triumphed over by strength. Day by day, hour by hour you can create that marvelous force – the power of the Holy Spirit, which is essential to bring about the salvation and the redemption of man in this stage.

So, I take you back to the daily round. You can create the Divine gift of power by thought, but still more by action, for I would have you know that in the spirit action takes first place. Thought, and those many aspects which are gathered together under the word 'thought'. These are good, but to us they only have half-life until they are put into action. So I say day by day, hour by hour, by putting your good thoughts into action, by striving, by grappling with the forces of evil which are around, you create power.

You know that to the pioneer, to the pilgrim temptation must come in a thousand thousand forms; it is the test, the only test as to the freedom or the bondage of the one concerned. So as you awaken in the morning let your thoughts be of work. Meditation is good when you are in touch with that which is holy, that which is pure, but by Living purity and goodness you create the power which God must have from his children in order to bestow upon them the gift of wisdom, which is the only form of vision or sight recognised by us.

So, at early morning think of Christ, the great, great worker, the constructor of all things, the tireless one, and say within yourself: "What can I do today?" and the guidance will come, in a seemingly miraculous way, so the guidance will come, and the little depression experienced by many on waking – caused sometimes from the severance from the peace and harmony of spirit conditions – this will be swept away, because there is something to Do for Christ. And then as the irritations accumulate, as things go wrong so it seems to you, again comes the priceless opportunity to create the power that will be needed.

Over your troubles and your trials, over your sorrows and your disappointments, over the betrayal of friends and the betrayal by yourself of the God within, grasp this comfort: That out of the pangs, out of the rising up, out of the trying to reconstruct, so, instead of loss, it is gain! You will say to me, perchance: "But I felt anger against another". I answer, "Did regret

Here again is construction. Cannot you grasp that all this is bringing into being the power which is essential for the cleansing of this little world, that you are instrumental in bringing to earth something of God through that which you suffer, through that which you try to overcome.

follow fast on that?" and perhaps you say: "Yes, I was sorry later". Again, I question you: "Did you seek to work out that which you had done against another?" – and if you pause here, then I condemn not, neither does the Christ condemn, but the sunshine of the truth which is of God is passed on through me and the instrument I use. In working out that which has gone awry, so a double blessing comes to you, and again, to the one concerned. Cannot you see that the weakness within was one point less weak, cannot you understand that the remorse, the regret and then their effort to make good, that all this is the pilgrim's path – the stumbling, the doubts, the misgivings, and the chiding of yourself; then arise in confidence in God, saying to Him as a little child: "I fell, oh make me strong"; and strength comes down direct!

Here again is construction. Cannot you grasp that all this is bringing into being the power which is essential for the cleansing of this little world, that you are instrumental in bringing to earth something of God through that which you suffer, through that which you try to overcome.

I take you on a little further: During the day, perchance, the vexations of the morning are forgotten and the time comes when you have leisure, and you think to yourself: I will seek that which will distract my mind. Now think you as to this: Within each one there are two minds – and another which I cannot touch upon today – which interpenetrate. There is the physical mind and there is the mind of the spirit body – that next tabernacle which you inhabit when the flesh is no more. Go carefully as to the method of distraction or consoling or comforting the mind of the body, for I say unto you that oft when man seeks to feed the mind of the body, the mind of the spirit-body goes starving. The only rest that is real rest is doing the Master's work, passing on the message to others, giving out in the measure that you have received. Forget not that it is more blessed to give than to receive!

So, even in your hours of leisure take care, for you are pilgrims out on a long, long journey, and what you lose at this stage in time you must retrieve.

Then I take you on a little farther still, when the shades of night fall and you sit, perchance, in solitude. The toil of the day is done. Does sadness creep close, does the past, as some phantom of sorrow, remind you as to this or that? Do you recall those possessions which you once had and now have been taken from you? Do you think of your child or some other whom you love so well, and do the tears fall and does the heart ache? The Saviour understands, but I say because it is the truth, that hours spent so take of the power. They create not that which is wanted for the purification of this earth.

Then I take you on a little farther still, when the shades of night fall and you sit, perchance, in solitude. The toil of the day is done. Does sadness creep close, does the past, as some phantom of sorrow, remind you as to this or that?

Cannot you understand that the true pilgrim is a soldier, a warrior at heart. Cannot you see that those who stand, by desire, side by side with Christ, must have a fighting spirit in the God sense. Take not of the power for the power is going to be needed in a way I cannot explain. Your part, the part of all children of the light is to create power for those who cleave to their darkness and spurn the light.

So I speak, and my words charged with love; I know there are some here who have almost despaired of doing work that mattered for Christ. Have no fear, you are working in a way inconceivable to the mind of the body now. There are others, perchance, who say: I will do this or that, but my strength, my circumstances forbid the full surrender. Let not the enemies gain access, for the links you made today will be very hard to sever in time to come. Take your problems to God; seek to give up the physical will and say to the Father: "Use me, all that I have is thine"; and the way will be opened, the opportunities will be forthcoming.

Then there are those who are devoted heart and soul, mind and body, to this work, yet many times they are conscious of failure, many times the enemy creeps close taunting, saying: "What a poor disciple of your Master you represent!" Too such as these I send out compassion. Yet there has never been a pilgrim who has not felt that he or she was a failure. If self-content held the mind of the so-called pilgrim, then the pilgrimage would not have been commenced. To those who work with heart and mind and soul and body for Christ and feel that they do so little, that they fall, stumble, they betray at every step, to such as these I say: Have no fear, that which to try to do and fail to finish shall be accomplished by the one you loves you best, who understands the temptations of the physical plane, who looks with understanding upon his children so beset by unseen enemies, so agonized by forces within not yet overcome.

I speak to you all and I say that in great and little measure you, each one, are creating power for God, and the power is going to be wanted in a way you cannot understand. For indeed this little earth has reached that stage of evolution when it can stand suffering, when it can pay the price for revelation. There are those here who shall see something of the revelation promised by Christ, but in that hour so self-revelation must come, and in the measure that the individual hesitated over the steep road, so indeed must anguish be his own.

I entreat you to cleave to the Cross, to use this gift as God intended – for the unfoldment of His truth not for the satisfaction of the mind of the body; to use this gift to release the children of the earth from that which binds.

So, in the name of our Father and Mother God I bless you with courage, and I bless you with love for others. The Cross is above this little room: Oh, Golden Cross, shining with the effort of countless pilgrims of the past. Let your effort contribute to the brightness, for through the brightness of the Cross the eyes of stumbling man shall be raised, and he shall be saved from the weakness and the bondage of the past. Amen.

MISS WINIFRED MOYES devoted her life to acting as the sole instrument for the inspired teachings of 'Zodiac' who in his earthly life was a teacher in the Temple of Jerusalem at the time of Jesus. He chose the name 'Zodiac' to lift men's thoughts from the earth to the heavens'. Zodiac delivered 1,475 addresses between 1924 and 1957 at meetings which often attracted thousands of people. The teachings continued to inspire those enquiring into the meaning and purpose of life, the function of the natural gifts of Healing and Spirit Communion, and the reassurance of the immortality of the Spirit. Zodiac named his great work 'The Christ Mission', and it is upon this that The Greater World is founded.

Receiving the Holy Spirit

Consider within as to your position, as to your own point of view. How far are you from God? How near are you to the Christ example? Then you can answer in what measure you have received the Holy Spirit – the Holy Spirit that shall lead you into all truth, the Holy Spirit which is God’s most priceless gift!

Without the Holy Spirit, at once life changes and at last seems to die out, but because you are sons and daughters of the Most High, part of God himself, so death can never touch you. You have within life from the great source and although many changes of state, many different garments or bodies must be your own, still within – often suffocated – is Life, the Holy Spirit of God which can never die.

Those of you who have tasted the cup of sorrow; those of you whose bodies have suffered sore and who yet have risen and acknowledged the goodness of God; those of you who have much anxiety, poverty and the betrayal of friends, in that degree that you have suffered and still seek to listen to God’s guidance, so in that degree you have received the Holy Spirit!

Do not forget that the earth life is just a moment in time. When that moment has passed, sorrow, suffering, treachery, these things will be no more, and you shall sun yourselves under the gracious smile of the one who loves you best.

Cannot you see that life, as represented to the man and woman going through the earth experience, is distorted. Their vision is so limited; they are blind indeed! Why is this blindness so apparent today? This is because so many of the shepherds do not have the light themselves. The Holy Spirit has been poured down upon them, but because they put the things of the earth first, because the tools of the mind meant so much, the gift of gifts was not taken up by them, and thus it was that the blind led the blind. The result is that many of the young and many of the old are straying from the fold of protection, and when the earth body is no more, in twilight conditions they must learn their lessons anew, for God is not mocked! What a man sows that he must reap, and even those in the world of Spirit cannot learn your lessons for you. You must make the truth your own!

Look out upon the world today. How much of peace is there? How much charity in its truest sense? How much Sacrifice? How much love? The few, praise be to God, have received the Holy Spirit, but the great majority have not wanted it. So, you get wars and rumours of wars, so you get devastating poverty and unspeakable misery, for the ones who have and those who could help are occupied with other things. The example of the Christ appeals not to those who seek to hold the reins of power. The example of Jesus Christ who walked the city streets and gave of himself finds no response in the minds of those who love their possessions, or who have made a God of that which they in their folly call intellect.

The knowledge of the earth is trivial. It passes when the earth body is cast aside. Then the clever ones are often as little children and must learn their lessons from those with humble hearts. Those who scorned not the path of duty, those who made the sacrifice of the real self. The earth knowledge is used in this measure – that those who seek to make it their own demands a certain amount of self-discipline, self-control, self-government. It can be used to relieve others, to protect them and to safeguard them. That knowledge is blessed by the Holder of all wisdom – God.

Nevertheless, if knowledge is sort for knowledge sake and not for the betterment of humanity, then far, far better it would have been if that one had not the tools, or the mind. Anything upon the earth which makes barriers between you and God is a burden you must carry until the mistake has been worked out in other conditions.

Those of you in the light, those of you in the half-light, to those in the unseen and

The example of the Christ appeals not to those who seek to hold the reins of power. The example of Jesus Christ who walked the city streets and gave of himself finds no response in the minds of those who love their possessions, or who have made a God of that which they in their folly call intellect.

Did Peter and Paul draw unto them the gifts of the earth? Did James, John and Mark, and all those who followed after, did they stand to the people of their time as ones in authority? They were scourged and imprisoned, they were scorned and reviled, but when the earth life was over, peace, sweet content and power was their own in a way you cannot grasp.

in the twilight, make ready for the time is coming when the gift of the Holy Spirit will mean all in all to you. Without it you will have naught that you can claim your own. How wise was Christ! He sought to lead his disciples into the self-same path. What was that path? Not for security from the earth point of view, but from security from the spiritual point of view.

Did Peter and Paul draw unto them the gifts of the earth? Did James, John and Mark, and all those who followed after, did they stand to the people of their time as ones in authority? They were scourged and imprisoned, they were scorned and reviled, but when the earth life was over, peace, sweet content and power was their own in a way you cannot grasp. They received the Holy Spirit! The gift was handed to them and they were willing to pay the price.

How much are you willing to endure for Christ, how much, how little? Do you awaken each morning and say within yourselves: "This day I will seek to keep close to God", yet by midday you have fallen, but as evening comes, back again to God you hurry, in penitence, seeking his grace. The Christ says: Fear not, the Holy Spirit has been received by you, the gift of the Holy Spirit shall be found to be your own.

Yet, there are those in every walk of life who cannot make up their mind. "Shall I dedicate my life to God?" and the tempter answers: "Take care, you must give up this and you must give up that; wait, make no decision". So the days go on and when least expected the earth body is taken from them, then as ones betrayed, they must go back upon their past.

Sorrow and persecution, perhaps, follow upon the acceptance of Jesus Christ and the desire to be a torch bearer in his name, but the time comes when sorrow, as sorrow, holds no meaning. Out of the very pangs so you feel the chains of earth dropping from you and in your sweet liberty you are linked up to the Holy ones of old, to the angels of God, and that which the earth would wreak upon you has no power to hurt, for with Christ the protection is complete.

So it was that the great pioneers of old could meet that which man calls death with a smile. They knew that a span in front lay life, peace and joy. When the martyrs were burnt at the stake, when those who sought to follow Christ were crucified, so God sent his messengers of light and comfort to them. They bore the pangs in part – seek not to take this honour from them, but out of the pangs

When the martyrs were burnt at the stake, when those who sought to follow Christ were crucified, so God sent his messengers of light and comfort to them. They bore the pangs in part – seek not to take this honour from them, but out of the pangs and anguish, out of the fire, the knife, and the cross, so henceforth the power was brought to stem the pangs of others.

and anguish, out of the fire, the knife, and the cross, so henceforth the power was brought to stem the pangs of others.

That which you call trouble is the purchase price of spiritual power. In the bearing of your sorrows you are receiving the Holy Spirit, for mark you this: The one who demonstrated in perfection the holding and the giving out of the Holy Spirit – Christ, our Lord – suffered as no man or woman has ever been called upon to suffer, and he received of the Holy spirit in that measure which should be example, encouragement and comfort to all.

The power of Holy Spirit remains with you to take and to hold. Raise your hearts to the one who loves you best. Think of his humble life, think of his love for suffering humanity and say to yourselves: “What a companion, what a friend”.

What is the greatest thing that can happen to you? To meet your saviour face to face, free from the earth body, and to go back on the record of the past. Fear not! In the eyes of the Beloved you will find no condemnation – nothing but love and compassion, but his love and compassion will be as a whip unto you if you sought not to do your best. Can anything strike you so fiercely as perfect love, perfect understanding from the one whom you have betrayed. Anguish indeed! By the power of God: Receive the Holy Spirit. It has been given unto you because God is your Father and Mother, and it is his will, his desire, that you should have the very best. The very best takes you up the steep hill to God. The very best cannot be an easy, or a comfortable way in the earth sense. The very best means climbing by effort, putting aside trivial things and that destructive desire for ease. The very best means up and up, drawing your strength from the source of all strength.

Believe that if weariness holds to today, tomorrow the power shall come! If the pains of the body tempt you to rest, have faith in the great healer. Jesus said “Take up your cross and follow me”.

You are surrounded by a great cloud of witnesses, those who took the earth way in a time long past. What is their record? What is their story now?- the amazing love of God!. For you it can be the same. Do not deceive yourselves – the steep road leads to God, the Hard road leads to peace, the rough road leads to strength! In the measure that you turn not from your tests, so you can say within: “By God’s grace I received the Holy Spirit”.

The cross is marked upon your brow by those who took the path long ago and they long to pass on their all to those who know not God as Love, those who know not Christ as Truth. May God bless you in the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit. Hold fast to the cross and to the holiness it represents and thank God that - through understanding, through his love – he has drawn you into the fold of protection and the shepherd can hold you fast if it be your will.

You are surrounded by a great cloud of witnesses, those who took the earth way in a time long past. What is their record? What is their story now?- the amazing love of God!. For you it can be the same. Do not deceive yourselves – the steep road leads to God, the Hard road leads to peace, the rough road leads to strength!

The Temple of the Holy Spirit

You are surrounded by a garment of flesh. You are held by limited senses and by an understanding which is bound by the earth in the measure that you allow yourself to be swayed by the earth. However, that tabernacle is but one garment of thousands of garments in which you – the real self – have functioned and have learnt some of the lessons necessary to fit you to return to your great inheritance as sons and daughters of God, children of God by that which you have endured, once more bearing likeness to God himself. Think of the physical body in its true sense, as the temple of the Holy Spirit. In this world there are Temples, churches, cathedrals, many edifices built to honour God. The few within pay deference to the Lord God, Creator of all, but, alas, there are an increasing number of those who have other gods than the one true god. There are many who worship self in one of its many forms and Christ is pushed beyond the borders of their physical consciousness. Yet, whatever a man may do, however a man may betray the Divine within, God dwells with the individual and nothing can destroy that glorious fact.

Within you is God, is Christ, for Christ is God. How then shall the temple which holds that which is Divine be trained, be used? How are you preparing the surroundings, the environment of the Holy Spirit which is gifted you by God. Your possession for ever and ever, although out of blindness and ignorance in the past you may have desecrated your gifts, sold your inheritance for a mess of pottage.

The time must come when each one of you must face reality, must go back over the past and read the record of your lives – not only this life but of the many lives lived in other conditions, other places. When you stand before Truth, when you are shown the mighty provision round you to rise to higher things, when you see the messengers, the angels, the guides, and the power they supply, then you may have to face the fact that you turned from those who were of God, and threw in your lot with those who were arraigned against the Christ.

On that day, if such a condition is your own, you will for the first time understand the pangs and the anguish. Self-condemnation will flay you like a whip with a thousand thongs, and more than that. In the measure that that which you did, that which you thought, that which you failed to build, affected others, in that measure not only must you rectify your own past but literally you must recreate the past of others; those whom you injured because you turned from the steep hill and chose the valley of self-indulgence; turned from the cross; turned from the sorrow; turned from pain; for you knew the path that Christ took himself; you knew the loneliness, the persecution, and the crucifixion and you cannot say within yourselves: “I was ignorant of life as it is”.

Nevertheless, the opportunity comes every minute, by the provision of a merciful God. It is never too late to come to the feet of the Christ, but what a man sows that he must reap. No one can learn your lessons for you, not even the one who loves you best, who has fought for you, striven for you over time unthinkable – God cannot give to man that which is against his own freewill.

God stands by the ‘sinners’, by the one who turned to evil. Christ and his messengers stand by such a one. They are waiting to help, waiting to lift, waiting to guide, but they cannot until the individual wants his Christ. The power of the Lord God of all is limited according to man’s desire. Yet within you, however weak you may seem to yourselves, however bound, however restricted, within you is God – power, courage and endurance. Then cast your chains from you. As children of faith, in trust, turn to the Saviour and ask him to help you to be that which you long to be for his sweet sake, for the sake of that which is within, and for the sake of humanity as a whole, which as yet, knows not God and wants not that which the Father can supply. Within you is wisdom, within you is purity, within you is the capacity for sacrifice hitherto undreamt of by yourselves. The world may seem to hold, but with Christ, you are more than conquerors. You have that strength which you draw from Him.

The only way to provide a fitting temple for the Holy Spirit imprisoned within is by work – first by work! Faith is glorious, but faith without effort is as the sunshine behind the clouds. Work, that form which is service. If you say: “My opportunities are limited, I am bound by much; my responsibilities forbid me taking up the work that I fain would do”. Then Christ will say to you: God has provided a way. You can work with your thoughts. You can create power, spiritual power, as you go about your daily task, as you pass among those in the busy streets, as you do

God stands by the ‘sinners’, by the one who turned to evil. Christ and his messengers stand by such a one. They are waiting to help, waiting to lift, waiting to guide, but they cannot until the individual wants his Christ.

Temples of the Holy Spirit, let this thought pierce the physical consciousness and then you will realise how greatly God has honoured his creation. The mighty mind of love instituted that the most beneficent law is that each one, by helping another, should indeed help himself; and again, that individual who thought not of helping others cannot be helped himself.

your shopping, which is necessary for the nourishment of the body, in your offices, in your homes. You can create power, God power, by the tender wish to help another, by the sending out of healing thoughts, by compassion, by pity, by giving a portion of that which you have. You can be missionaries of God even though you may, by sickness, be fettered to your bed, for within you, within you is God and you are gifted with powers undreamt of by everyone on the earth plane. The only way to release those powers is by dedication, by the consecration of the temple so that the holiness within may have freedom, may have the power to express itself, through the physical, on the vibrations, and to inspire others to do likewise.

One day each child of God must return to that perfection from which he started on the long journey of experience. One day you must be as God himself – that fragment which you represent – and not only you yourself, but every soul in every condition must return to perfection. The only way to draw back those gifts which God meant should be your own, is by service, by giving out of yourselves to others, by lifting the sorrowful, by going to the bonded and telling them the good news ... “Brother, sister arise within you is God. Arise and take the blessing of the Christ”.

Temples of the Holy Spirit, let this thought pierce the physical consciousness and then you will realise how greatly God has honoured his creation. The mighty mind of love instituted that the most beneficent law is that each one, by helping another, should indeed help himself; and again, that individual who thought not of helping others cannot be helped himself.

Jesus Christ asks you to follow him. Think of the fishermen, those bound by much, how they – in spite of their persecution – how these humble men braved the enemies of the physical, braved the powers and principalities of darkness, and gave up all for the sweet Saviour who spoke to them in tones so kind.

Do not forget that within is God, and the master claims his own. Today make this compact with yourselves: “I will follow Christ up the steep hill and naught shall hold be back. With his strength I shall be strong. With his patience I shall have endurance. With his love so the love shall pour forth from me over my brothers and sisters, and they, through the force of my love, shall be drawn back to the source of that love.” This is the message of the Christ. Turn not from these words; say not to yourselves: “I am weak, the world holds me”, for one day with sight standing before truth, so this hour shall be returned to you, and you shall see the gift which God held out to you, and torture must be your own if you turn from that which is opportunity in the God sense.

Within you is power, within you is wisdom, within you is God! Take of your gifts, and henceforth stand by the Christ, and you shall do miracles in his name, miracles out of the grace within – truth, dedication and consecration; you shall do miracles in the name of the Christ. The Christ calls you ... Give up all and follow me out of misunderstandings of earthly life into the illumination and the revelation of the spirit.

Friends of The Greater World let the sunshine of the love of God pour upon you and cast its sweetness, its healing power, over those in your surroundings, for time is fleeting and the call is coming for volunteers, volunteers to stand and fight for Christ, volunteers who will take up the cross – not the cross of sorrow but the cross of joy and peace and power, so that those who as yet know not God, by the peace and the power and the joy shall be drawn back into their mighty inheritance – The temple of the Holy Spirit cleansed so that the God within can function as the great Father intended.

Faith is grand and glorious, but faith without effort, without work, without sacrifice is like Spring when the sun is absent. The buds wait to unfold in beauty, and many wither and die on the stalk, for the power – the creative power of the sun – is absent.

So then, take this message to yourselves and pass it on to others: That henceforth you have bound yourselves to Christ and you mean to work for him, to strive for him, and to create for him that which shall remain forever.

The message of Christ calls. The blessing of the Christ awaits. Remember the God within, take the blessing of the Christ, and do that which the greater self has desired over the long past. May the blessing of Christ be with you all – peace and harmony, service for God!

Thought for the day

*“There is no greater love than this, when a man lays down his life for the sake of his friends.
You are my friends, if you do everything that I command you.
Henceforth I will not call you servants, because a servant does not know what his master does;
But I have always called you my friends, because everything that I heard from my Father I made known to you.
You did not choose me, but I chose you, and I have appointed you, that you also should go and produce fruit, and that your fruit might remain;
so that whatever you ask my father in my name,
He will give it to you.
I command these things to you,
that you love one another.
If the world hate you,
Know well that it hated me before you.
If you were of the world,
The world would love its own.
But you are not of this world for I have chosen you out of the world
This is why the world hates you.....”*

There is no minimum amount payable and the Inland Revenue will send us almost one third extra, with no further costs to you. This is called 'Gift Aid'. If you would like to give, please complete and sign this 'Gift Aid' Donation Form and return to Greater World Headquarters, together with your donation. May I take this opportunity to say 'Thank You' for your kind donation and your support towards The Greater World.

Please remember that to make this 'Gift Aid' Donation, you must pay an amount of income or capital gains tax at least equal to the tax we reclaim on your donation (£0.25p for every £1.00 you give)
